SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The long structure with the corrugated roof has big doors at each end. The floor is dirt. Near the front door is lots of old farm-like equipment: an old ^{tractor}~~trailer~~ and several rusty things it pulls. Near the back door is a long table. On the floor to either side of the table are numerous boxes, padding, and packaging material.

A man and a woman live in the old house next to the long building. He is in his late fifties but looks much older. She is about 5-7 years younger. He is respected in his community and has many visitors who stop by to talk with him. The amount of visitors is far more than one would expect given the long bone and teeth jarring drive to the house. The woman cares only about the smooth running of her household. When people visit she only says hello then excuses herself to resume whatever she was doing.
